A large sheet of paper with a light blue background. In the center, there is a vertical dashed line representing a fold line. On either side of this line, there is a large, white, rounded rectangular area with a scalloped edge. Each of these white areas contains ten horizontal green lines for writing. Two diagonal lines extend from the top corners of the white areas towards the central fold line, meeting at a point on the fold line. At the bottom of the page, there is a decorative border consisting of a green grassy field with small green triangles, and a row of various green icons including flowers, tulips, and a butterfly.
